For Member Information - Adani Regional Content Strategy (ARCS): Supplier Portal

Adani Australia are pleased to advise that today, we launched the new Adani Australia website. Our website will now include two official portals designed to connect potential project suppliers and job seekers with Carmichael project opportunities. These portals form an important part of the Adani Regional Content Strategy (ARCS).

The ARCS program aims to ensure that regional communities have a full, fair and reasonable opportunity to win work across Adani Australia's mine, rail, solar and port projects, and your organisations and the members which you represent are a vital part of this.

As part of our commitment to working with regional Queensland and strengthening regional Economic Development Organisations, we will be inviting your Members to register first.

The supplier portal for the Carmichael Project is being hosted by EconomX. Suppliers can go to EconomX, complete a basic business profile and then register for the Adani Project. The link to register with EconomX is www.economx.com

We understand that your members may have provided their details to different portals or databases in the past. We intend to develop and grow our ARCS program, and the unique information that we can obtain from the market via their registration on EconomX will help us do just that.

Before setting up their account, please ensure your members have access to:

- Their company details, including ABN and website
- Their capability statement (electronic copy) and their logo (electronic copy)

EconomX have provided a Set-Up Manual, which we have included with this letter.

Adani's vision is to be a globally admired leader in integrated infrastructure businesses with a deep commitment to nation building. In regional Queensland, this vision is realised by empowering communities and building supplier capability, through initiatives such as this supplier portal.

Please feel free to issue communication along with the EconomX Set Up Manual to your members and communities.
